Barrier of life

There is a knowable structure underlying all human actions.
All the operations of human consciousness and actions are build on contrasts: wet and dry, internal -external.
The life/world is a collection of countless information, correlation of phenomenes and processes, includes multiplicity of ideas, subjects, thoughts.

Polarization between poles, relativity of being, continous experience from the beginner to go by, in time, space, infinity.
A barrier of life, energy, rotating universe around an invisible axis, eternally escaping centre.
Ballance, polarization of internal opposites, combination of standpoints.
A bundle of invisible agreement between poles, like in nature approval active connections, harmonizing with each other, despite many contradictions.
Agreement and acceptance as an only natural source of progress and continuation of living, like trees in a density of forest, which long ago established the distance and limit barriers, they mustn't cross over to absorb the light with its leaves.

Communication - (exchange, contact, conversation) - movement consisting on a keeping contact between remote, distant places,
... technique of carrying information between the system and environment or between two systems, to communicate, to relay thoughts, to give messages, information.

What is light?
It is a clear visible effect of energy, spinning our life field...
Is a subject allowing us to see things, an equation of freedom,
Is at last... time...

'..do you think the world is what you think so is world your thinking your thinking is world
thus your'e thinking a world yourself..'
Karl-Heinz Adler

My proposal is rather an idea, a thought, sense...
Visible intuition, than a developed technology.
It is a mirror of visible collection of occurrences, matter absorber, gate to the interior of infinity.
An element so to say to suck down the light from the environment, lightly bent from the axis, trying to enter into discussion with the world,
light set free from the mass.
Curved graph of thought, slightly barrier defined by speed, directed to the inside... vision of vault.

...inside space...
An atmosphere of inprisoned space, light, shined inconspicuous inserted through a small opening, in which the colors swing in all directions.
Impression of a treelike column supporting the space, left from the outward symmetry of the world.

continuity break of space...
As if an invisible tree branch, outgrowing to the top deriving energy from the sun... black hole devouring sunbeams ...curve of time...
The visitor will be overwhelmed by meditation calmness, internally silence, ballance...
ready to explode unexpectedly...
defining anew visibility confines.
